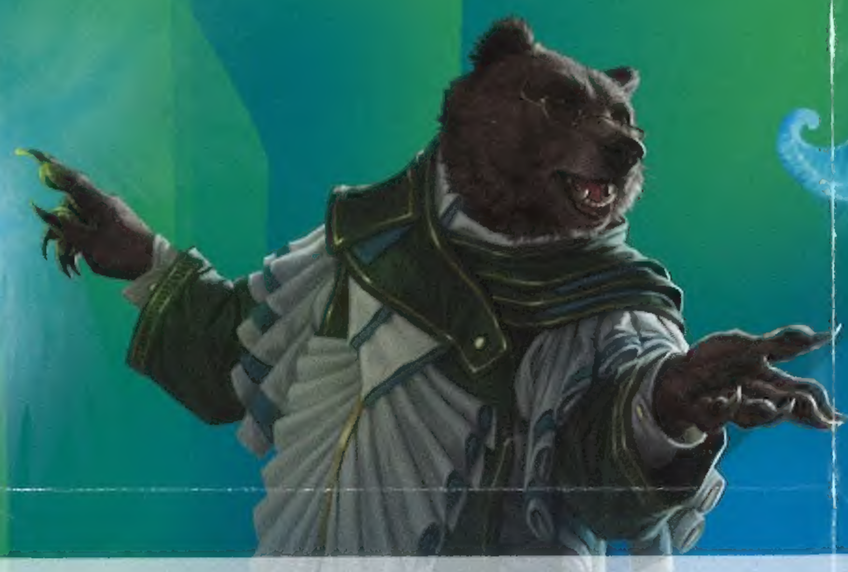
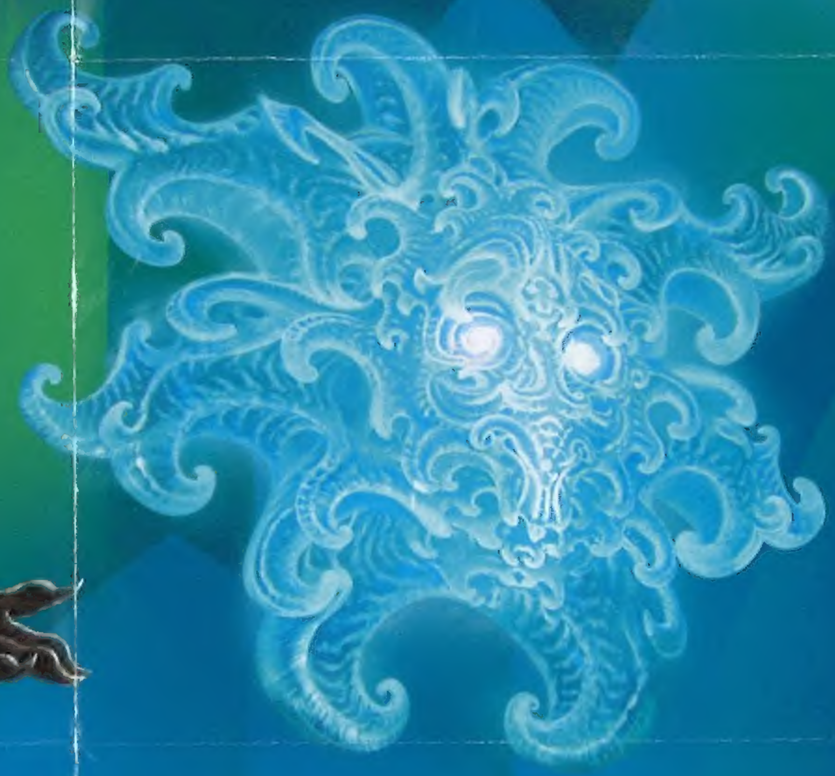
QUANTUM QUANDRIX

Adrix and Nev, Twincasters

Amid the mana-rich waters of the Pinzari Isles, the twins Adrix and Nev grew up literally swimming in magic. At an early age, they began to see patterns in the tides and currents that eluded even the most esteemed scholars of their society. Once, they saved a hundred lives by predicting the sudden arrival of a tsunami despite the deceptively calm seas. After that, any doubts about their prowess were washed away.

At Strixhaven, they received special permission to teach as a duo, blending mastery of blue and green mana. They constantly debate the merits of various esoteric mathematical principles, but if one of their students is in danger, they leap into action in perfect harmony.





DEEKAH
FRACTAL THEORIST

Deekah sees the world as an endless sequence of interconnected equations, which to her is the most beautiful thing imaginable. She explores new theorems by giving them physical form, and her exquisite geometric creations are always an exciting sight on campus.

RUXA
PATIENT PROFESSOR

As exciting as wild new theories are, Ruxa knows they're worthless without a deep understanding of the basics. Students of all levels flock to his classes, eager to broaden their understanding of the building blocks of the world.

ESIX
FRACTAL BLOOM

A living theorem obsessed with infinity, Esix was created accidentally by a group of Quandrix students tasked with devising an infinite equation. Over the years, a few professors have attempted to deactivate it, but all their formulas somehow end up dividing by zero and fizzling out. Esix never seems to register these would-be threats, consumed as it is with its own calculations.

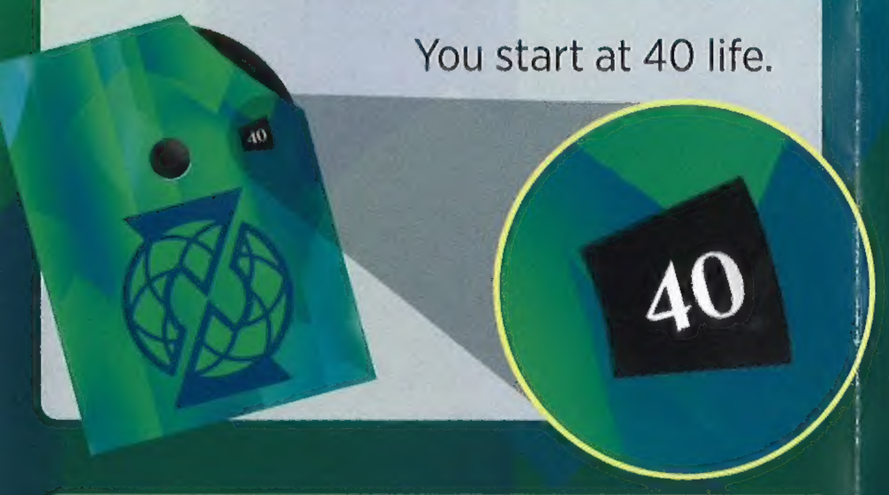
LEARN TO PLAY COMMANDER

Commander is a Free-for-All multiplayer game that uses additional Magic™ rules:

You start at 40 life.



PLAYING THE DECK

What's better than doing something once? Doing something twice! Twice! Twin Quandrix professors Adrix and Nev duplicate each creature token you create. So whether it's an army of smaller tokens, pairs of enormous Fractals, or a battlefield filled with copies of other creatures, Adrix and Nev will help. Multiply your power to divide and conquer the game. It all adds up!

If your commander deals 21 combat damage or more to any one player throughout the game, that player loses.

Your commander starts in the command zone.

You can cast your commander from the command zone.

You may return your commander to the command zone if it leaves the battlefield.
